Destiny has her first Foal, Chiro

On the 11th day of March, Destiny foaled a beautiful colt, Chiro.

Chiro was foaled early in the morning and his sire is SD Laddie. He will be a great stallion prospect. Not sure that he is for sale. He is grey with 4 white legs with a white blaze. I expect him to turn black from the black circles around his eyes.

Destiny is a great mare and allows Chiro to be handled and played with but everyone.

Currently Destiny and Chiro are turned out with Laddie and Destiny is being bred for 2010. Laddie is a great stallion and is very attentive to the foals and mares in the field

IN ADDITION

There are still 9 Mares due to foal for 2009. All were bred to SD Laddie and we are expecting to get really great foals from him. He has always produced wonderful foals with lots of feathers and great confirmation.

We will be showing him at the Feathered Horse Classic, from the 14th to the 16th of April in Shelbyville TN. Come join us and see him and a few others in action. Jessica rides Laddie daily and he will do well at the show.

Thanks, Mike Nenni

Tosha's Tack Trailer

Tosha Maxson finally convinced me to set up a Tack Trailer to sell at Equine functions. We went to a few barrel races and were received well and sold some tack. Folks were amazed at the affordability of our Tack. We will be going to most of the barrel races in the local area this year. We are planning to have a great selection available at affordable prices.
